

Exercise 2: Create a GitHub repository guide

Use knowledge learnt in previous modules to create a GitHub repository for the project. This will be needed to connect the code to the CI pipeline.

- Should include a README file for documentation purposes.
- Should include a .gitignore, as we do not want secrets on the repository.